

4/12/72 The 4/7 (regional?) wire copy on the Sirhan appeal is slugged 007, if you did not notice. They meant 07. But the quote in in, from Walker reminds me of a secret proceeding of which I have a copy and use parts in POST MORTEM, and don't want to use or pass around until it is (?) printed has him expressing lack of concern over error because by the time any appeal can be heard Nixon will have changed the entire complexion of the Supreme Court!!! And this was at the time of the trial. I aside from reference to it in a letter of which I may have sent you a carbon, I use the engraving over the main (and thu appropriately locked) doorway of the Department of Justice with some bitterness in that writing. It says THE PLACE OF JUSTICE IS A HALLOWED PLACE." H

[illegible]

9073.11 27-11-40